JUDD WINICK is the author of the New York Times bestselling, Children's Choice Book Award-winning graphic novel Hilo. Judd lives in San Francisco with his wife, their two kids, and their cat. Judd has scripted issues of bestselling comic series, including Batman, Green Lantern, Green Arrow, Justice League, and Star Wars. Judd also appeared as a cast member of MTV's

The Real World: San Francisco and is the author of the highly acclaimed graphic novel Pedro and Me, about his Real World roommate and friend, AIDS activist Pedro Zamora. Visit Judd and Hilo online at .juddwinick.com, or find him on Twitter at @JuddWinick.

My son literally was counting down the days until the release date. He loved the first two and was super excited to see there was a third one coming out.. He then devoured it that evening it arrived. He is 6. I feel like the humor is right on point. No meanness or sarcasm. Heard lot of giggles and laughter as his younger sister sat next to him looking on. So cute...and so much better than them looking at a tablet together!

Judd Winick has truly created a delightful superhero story with his HiLo series. After hearing him speak at a conference I can easily see where these stories come from, the man is a natural storyteller. In this third volume of what promises to be a six book series (per the author), HiLo and D.J. have to find a way to follow Gina into a portal. The story opens with them facing off with the U.S. Army. At first I thought that HiLo would be forced to destroy the tanks and everything, but he comes up with a much more effective, not to mention, less damaging, method of disarming the the military establishment (and no I'm not going to tell you what it is, go find the book if you want to know ;)). Once they find a portal, HiLo and D.J. find themselves on an unknown planet with no idea how to find Gina, especially once HiLo collapses. Thankfully they get rescued by a familiar face and taken to a safe place. Along the way, HiLo continues to struggle to remember how he went from being a villain to being a hero. And of course there is a tribe of machine/weapon wielding warriors that have to be defeated as well. With a great mix of humor and action, Winick has created a winning series for both young and old. Highly recommended.

My kids asked that we pre-order this book as soon as they finished book 2. They both started reading it as soon as the package arrived in the mail. And they didn't stop until it was done. They love these stories and they talk about them all the time.

Saw these at Costco and almost bought them but then found it cheaper on . My son and husband read these together every night and they love HiLo now. It's more a 'graphic novel' aka comic book style but great for early readers, my son can read a lot of it and he's in 1st grade.

My boys (age 5 & 7) looooove the Hilo serious. They have been reading these books over and over and over again.

I can't wait until #4 is out. These are just right for any age starting with 2 yrs.

He Read the first one and had to read books 2 and 3. He read them both in one day!

My son loves reading the Hilo books. He couldn't wait till number 3 came out.
