Flora Joy graduated with a Bachelors of Science degree and began teaching at age 18. She holds the record for being Eastern Tennessee State University's youngest graduate. She has made numerous presentations with her Fabric Arts and quilting productions. Her passion is not only making art quilts, but in the discovery of unique quilting concepts and techniques. She would definitely rather sew than to eat or sleep-and that's saying a lot!

Just received the book today. I saw the Sleep Pray Scream quilt at the NW Quilting Expo in June. I had to know the technique. The book is well written and explains the procedure step by step. Good list of supplies used, great photos. That being said, I have no desire at this time to print photos on fabric, etc. I think if that's your interest and you want to make a completely different type of quilt, this would interest you.

Well written and very clear. However, no mention of the fact that you have to have Adobe Photoshop until about halfway through. For those who do, the instructions are detailed and very well presented.

Great instructions and interesting way to do a quilt or wallhanging. I recommend this for experienced quilters or for anyone wanting a challenge to learn a new technique

An awesome technique, easier than I thought! Wonderful detailed directions with tons of photos to assist you. Flora's finished products are amazing! I particularly liked how she accomplished the elaborate simulated ornate frames surrounding her creations. Impressive results!

I like to quilt. This quilt was on display in The Brigham City Museum this summer.

Nice book with good instructions

SO INTRIGUING....CAN'T WAIT TO TRY THIS TECHNIQUE!!!!
