Margo Duke is known affectionately in fiber-art circles as "Her Majesty Margo," which is also the name of her company. Margo designs machine-needle-felting projects and believes that spending daily time with one's Bliss is an absolute essential to a healthy and well-balanced life.

I was a little disappointed in Margo's second book. True, it is nicely produced, with good illustrations and instructions. Margo has a real talent for combining different textures and colours to make her projects. The book is a felting equivalent to a book of knitting patterns, and if you don't want to make the projects, then the book has only a few tips to help you make your own designs. If you look on the front and back cover, that is mainly what you will find in the book. An easy way to have improved the book would have been to include different variations of colour of the same projects, or the same felting ideas used on different sizes or different objects. Personally I am not about to make needle felted tea cosies, or lampshades, as shown here.

Margo Duke~~~~~ such a talented artist and able to share her techniques. I do wish there more instructions on some of the other flowers, but great starting place!

It was great and very informative. I learned a lot from this great book. It is great for anyone wanting to take their needle felting to a higher level.

Its well worth owning.

FINE,

Not very helpful for me, so I gave it to someone else.

Loved learning this technique and friends appreciate the items I create for them.

Learn a lot from this book.
