Honeycomb Hybrids: Honeycomb For All Tastes

Synopsis

Honeycomb Hybrids: Honeycomb For All Tastes is an exploration of honeycomb and its variants from several years of experimentation. Much more than the simple weave structure it appears to be, honeycomb allows for a personal interpretation and many other translations, morphing into other techniques and blurring boundaries. From simple cells to complex interactions, you will find much to incorporate into your weaving repertoire.

Stacey Harvey-Brown is an experienced weaver and teacher who explores plain weave derivative structures to create surface texture and dimensional weaving in her art. She develops work on her 24S AVL and then distills the essence of the techniques to 4 and 8 shafts, so as to be accessible to more weavers through her writing. She has recently moved to SW France where she has set up The Loom Room France for teaching, workshops, writing books on three-dimensional weaving techniques and developing her art further. Honeycomb Hybrids is her second book.
